

St. Clair's Guided Stalking Terms & Conditions

- All decisions made and instructions given by the guide regarding the stalking are final. This includes but is not limited to safe shots, the deer management plan, animal welfare, public image and the price of animals shot or shot at. Any client that goes against or ignores decisions made by the guide will be asked to leave the estate and their actions reported to the relevant authorities and/or organisations.
- A safety briefing will be delivered by the guide prior to any stalking commencing. The safety rules provided by the guide are to be followed at all times.
- Clients assume all liability and responsibility for their actions and equipment for the duration of the outing.
- If the guide says the client may shoot a specific deer, the responsibility still lies with the client to ensure it is a safe shot and that it is executed as humanely as possible.
- All clients must possess adequate insurance cover to meet any financial claim that may be brought against them for the duration of the outing. Clients will be asked to provide evidence of this.
- All clients must possess a Firearm Certificate with conditions that allow them to shoot their chosen rifle on this estate. If they do not, they must use an estate rifle and be aged 17 or over.
- If the guide spots a deer that is sick or injured and decides that the most humane action is for it to be culled, they may do so regardless of other deer being present. The guide, at their discretion, may offer for the client to shoot it if safe and humane to do so.
- The guide may end the outing at any time for any reason. If this occurs, the client may request a copy of the reason in writing afterwards.
- If a client brings their own rifle they must zero it on the estate's private range before an outing can commence, unless permission is granted otherwise. If the guide deems the rifle and/or equipment to be unsuitable the client will be offered an estate rifle to use instead.
- Rifle sound moderators must be used at all times, unless permission is granted otherwise. All estate rifles have a sound moderator included.
- An outing can be either morning or evening and last for up to 4 hours. If no shots are attempted and no cull animals present a safe shot during the outing, the client will be offered another outing free of charge.
